The picture shows W. H. Woodward and partner in dancing pose.

A feature that will add great popularity to the dancing at Lagoon this season has been announced by Manager A. C. Christensen, who states that he has engaged the services of W. H. Woodward who will have charge of the dance floor at the Lagoon pavilion during the entire season. Mr. Woodward has filled a similar capacity at Salt Lake for the past six years and previous to that time he was in charge of the dancing at the Oaks in Portland and has filled several vaudeville and musical show contracts. Mr. Woodward has had the management of the Berthana dance hall at Ogden during the past winter and he will be assisted in special exhibition dances at Lagoon by Miss Morrison, his assistant at the Berthana, as well as Mrs. Woodward, who assists Mr. Woodward in instructing at the Woodward dancing academy in Salt Lake.

With Wetzel's famous jazz band rendering the music and Mr. Woodward in charge of the dancing, Manager Christensen predicts a season of unusual popularity for the Lagoon dance pavilion this season.

As soon as Mr. Woodward completes his contract with Lagoon this season he will go to New York to attend the convention of dancing masters to confer with the terpsichorean specialists as to new dances that will be brought out and which Mr. Woodward will feature next season at Lagoon.

TUCKER ADMITS HE'S 'TOUGH GUY'

Waives Preliminary; Says He Is Wanted for Postoffice Robbery

Cal Tucker, who is alleged to have entered the Sullivan Drug company at 2600 Washington avenue, the Modern Market and the Cheesman Auto company, waived preliminary hearing this morning before Judge D. R. Roberts and was bound over to the district court. Bail was fixed at $500.

He is charged with second degree burglary. Tucker, when interviewed by a reporter, claimed to be a fugitive from justice, stating that while a student at high school, he became intoxicated and, with an older companion, "tipped over a p. o. box" (a postoffice safe). He said that he was captured and maintained that he was 18 years old. He was given from three to five years in the penitentiary, he claims, but while being taken to the institution, leaped from a train and broke his wrist.

He said that he had been successful in eluding his pursuers and that since then his neither been home nor has corresponded with his parents.

Tucker expressed regret at not having shot Officer Stevens and said that the night desk sergeant and the arresting officers would be made to pay for the trouble they had caused him. He intimated that he had been mixed up in several crimes and had been successful in eluding capture until the present time.

"When I get through here, I'm going to Mexico where they can't serve extradition papers," he said. Tucker said that he would like to return to his old home and get away from his present life.

He claimed that he served in the quartermaster's corps for five months. Clarence Oswald, age 14, of Laramie, Wyoming, who was arrested in company with Tucker, will be turned over to the juvenile authorities, Captain Robert Burk stated.

BLIND CANTATA TO BE REPEATED

Will Be Given at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday Evening

The cantata of the blind students at the state school at the deaf and blind will be given at the First Presbyterian church Sunday night, according to Rev. John Edward Carver.

He said: "The work of the state school for the deaf and blind has received many compliments for the class of work it has accomplished during the past year. The program given on the grounds of the school this spring and repeated this week in Liberty park, Salt Lake City, has been of such credit to those who have served this past year as instructors that Ogden feels justly proud of this institution. Some time ago the students of the deaf department presented a play that also was repeated to a large audience in Salt Lake City. The scholars of the department for the blind also gave a musical evening recently that was thoroughly appreciated by an audience that packed the school auditorium. Many of the citizens of Ogden, however, did not have the opportunity of hearing this musical program and in order that they be given that privilege the entire program consisting of a cantata and vocal chorus will be given Sunday night in the First Presbyterian church.

"The numbers for the evening are so arranged so that all the pupils of the department for the blind have part in the evening's number. The selections require about an hour and a half to render and all who are interested in the work of the institution is doing and enjoy the rendition of good music cleverly presented, will find the work of the department for the blind most enjoyable."

NOT DRUNK NOW, DRUNK YET, HE INFORMS JUDGE

"No, I'm not drunk, no—I'm drunk yet," John Smith, who appeared before the city court on a mediacency charge told Judge D. R. Roberts this morning, in answer to an inquiry if he had been drinking.

Smith, it appeared, had asked an officer for the price of a meal yesterday.

He appeared to be in a dazed condition in the city court and exhibited a tendency to drop off to sleep.

During the course of his examination he said that he had not gotten over being drunk.

Although a plea of not guilty was entered by Smith, Judge D. R. Roberts found the defendant guilty and sentenced him to ten days in the city jail.
